

Leaner... Greener... More Compliant...

With more & more pressures being put on quality laboratories to become leaner, greener, and more compliant, many organizations are looking towards Electronic Laboratory Notebooks (ELN's) to help them achieve these goals.

SWOT Analysis

Needs Assessment:

As a leader in the ELN marketplace, CSols combines this domain expertise with its core competency of strategic planning to provide our customers a client-centric approach to ELN needs assessment. This service provides our customers with all the tools they need to successfully plan for an ELN project. Our ELN team will document current informatics architecture and provide a SWOT analysis of laboratory operations in addition to identifying ELN efficiency and compliance improvements. This fully documented analysis is concluded with a recommended approach to implementing your selected solution.
